Representative Government.

BULLETIN

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 14.—Returns from 592 precincts of 632 in the state give for governor: Parkhurst (R) 133,817. McIntire (D) 69,249. The same precincts in 1916 gave for governor: Milliken (R) 80,014. Curtis (D) 66,652. The state senate is solidly Republican, the Republicans electing every county attorney and every county sheriff. Twelve Democrats were elected to the state house of representatives.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The Republicans swept the state in the election today and elected Frederic H. Parkhurst as governor by the largest plurality ever given a gubernatorial candidate in Maine.

With only 42 isolated towns and plantations to be heard from, which cast a total of about 3,500 in the state election of 1916, Parkhurst's plurality over Bertrand G. McIntire, Democrat, was more than 64,000. The largest previous plurality was about 48,000 given the Republican nominee in 1895. Aided by the women's vote, which went very largely to the Republican candidates, the party rolled up a total vote of more than 52,000 larger than that of 1916, while the Democrat total was increased over that year by only about 2,300. The Republicans elected congressmen from all four districts and obtained a large majority in the legislature besides electing their candidate for state auditor.

The part played by the new factor of the women's vote was evident. In all parts of the state women availed themselves of the first opportunity to vote in a state election and the figures showed that a large majority of them voted the Republican ticket. The vote for Parkhurst on returns from more than two thirds of the state showed an increase of more than 46,000 over that cast for Milliken, Republican, four years ago, while McIntire's vote was less than 1,500 more than that of Curtis, Democrat in the last presidential year.

The Republican strength was uniform throughout the night. Several of the cities which showed small Democratic pluralities in 1916 returned large pluralities for Parkhurst today. In many others, which went Republican four years ago, the plurality for that ticket was greatly increased this year. Considerable significance in the outcome in its bearing on the voting for president in November was asserted by Republican leaders from that the campaign was fought out almost on national lines, with the league of nations as the chief issue.

Coolidge Comments.
Boston, Sept. 13.—Governor Coolidge, Republican candidate for vice-president in commenting tonight upon the Maine election, said: "It would look as if the National election already has been determined. Such a decisive vote in Maine must indicate the trend of public opinion throughout the nation."

The enormous victory means that the nation as a whole is tired of the national Democratic administration.
Bangor, Me. Sept. 13.—Colonel Frederic H. Parkhurst, Republican candidate for governor in a statement tonight on the election said that "as the campaign has been vigorously contested by the Democrats on National issues the result must be accepted throughout the country as giving most conclusive evidence that the voters of Maine resent the autocratic and un-American administration that the Democrats have given us during the past seven years."

It is equally an endorsement of Harding and Coolidge, he added, who will be elected in November by a decisive majority.
"Maine Points Way," Hays.
New York, Sept. 13.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, commenting tonight on the election results in Maine said: "Maine has pointed the way. The result gives the greatest reassurance to all well wishers of

SPANISH WAR VETS IN ANNUAL SESSION
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—Eradication of radicalism was advocated here today at the opening of the 22nd national encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans of America.

William Jones of New York, commander-in-chief of the organization declared the government should spare no expense in "wiping out these doctrines that are designed to disrupt the very things upon which this government was founded."
The commander asserted that ex-service men, when proved sufficiently qualified, should be given preference when vacancies in the federal civil service are being filled.
Reports submitted recommended that the pay of army and naval officers and of enlisted men be increased, and that army officers be selected from the ranks.

DENY HUNGER STRIKERS ARE GETTING FOOD
London, Sept. 13.—Rumors that Irish hunger strikers in jail in the city of Cork are being fed surreptitiously are denied in a Dublin dispatch to the Daily Mail, which declares the only nourishment they are receiving is from outside which they are rubbed to alleviate their pain due to wasting tissues. HARDING TALKS TO RAILROAD MEN OF CUMMINS-ESCHACT

Says the Government Took Advantage of People in War Time

DECLARES BILL IS PROGRESSIVE STEP

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Reaffirming his support of the Cummins-Esch act restoring the railways to their owners, Senator Harding charged in a speech to a delegation of railway workers here late today that by assuming control of the roads at the Wilson administration had sought to promote a policy based on permanent government operation.

Had the experiment proved a success the Republican nominee declared the administration would have favored the retention of the transportation lines and other public utilities under government control. The war, he said, had offered an opportunity to try out the scheme only because it permitted administration officials "to take advantage of the anxieties of the people" in asking authority to take over the properties.

The senator also assailed as "socialistic" and "revolutionary" the plan supported by some labor leaders to put the railways at the disposal of the railway workers. The Cummins-Esch bill, he said, was the best measure congress could work out in the time allotted and gave to both railway owners and employees a just guarantee of rights.

Union Men Cheer Candidate.
Several hundred union men composing the Harding and Coolidge Railway Club of Marion were in the bleachers at the time the senator spoke. They cheered the nominee as he hit at class rule and lauded the labor provision of the act.

They carried banners expressing their support in such inscriptions as "The Government Must Change Conductors," "Harding Will Not Sidetrack Us," and "Safety First, Elect Harding." J. W. Rosebury, past president of the local unit of the Order of Railway Trainmen, presented the delegation to Senator Harding and told him they hoped by coming to prove the fallacy of "the impression that railway workers are opposed to your candidacy because of your support of the Cummins-Esch act."

"Conceding that the act was not perfect," Senator Harding characterized it as "the most considerate piece of legislation ever enacted in the protection of any group of workmen in the United States."
Opportunity to Try Plan.
"When the world war came on," he continued, "we were all deeply concerned in putting that we possessed at the command of the government for the winning of the war. With such a feeling running through the country the railways were taken over. Undoubtedly, there was back of the movement the insistent forces in our country who believe in government ownership of railways. War seemed to offer the opportunity for the application of their theories of government and I sometimes suspect the taking over of the railways was more impelled by the thought of modifying our government policy than the development of a better service."

"This suggestion was later on confirmed by the insistence of the administration that it be given authority to take over the telephone and telegraph lines. When congress voted a grant of authority to take over the telephone and telegraph lines it was expressly stipulated that no such seizure would be made unless the necessities of war urgently required it, but after the authority was given without a new exigency having arisen without a single new condition of peril, the telephone and telegraph lines were seized because an administration was in power which was disposed to take advantage of the anxieties of people while involved in war to completely revolutionize our government policy in dealing with these public utilities."

"If the experiment with the railways and these communication lines has been successful it reasonably may be assumed that the policy would have been made permanent. Such was the unthought intent of the present administration."

Is Progressive Step.
The Cummins-Esch law made one notably progressive step in dealing with the railway workers. There has been much outcry against the act as being hostile to labor and unjust to unionism and subversive to capital. (Continued on Page 4)

WHEAT GROWERS URGING HOLDING OF WHEAT CROP

Want to Put The Price Up to $2.75 Per Bushel

SURVEY SHOWS COST OF GROWING WHEAT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13.—Growers of the spring wheat area of the northwest are to urge to engage in the movement of the winter wheat growers to hold their wheat for $2.75 per bushel at country elevators, it was announced today, following a wheat growers' conference.

Representatives of farmers in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Nebraska, meeting here ratified the resolutions adopted by statewide meetings in these four states endorsing the movement to hold wheat "until it brings cost plus a small profit."

A request to the farm organizations of Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana were urged to appeal to their members to follow suit.

A survey by which it was shown that the cost of growing a bushel of wheat to insure the farmer a twenty per cent profit was $2.77 in four states and $2.75 1-2 in seven others, was the basis of the price suggested by the resolution. Wheat is being bought now at shipping points as low as $2 a bushel.

SWITCHMEN ARE REPORTED TO BE APPLYING FOR WORK

Men Who Went on Vacation Are Said to be Seeking Jobs

RAILROADS HIRING THEM AS NEW MEN

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Railroads in Chicago tonight reported that the switchmen who several months ago went on "vacation" which they declared would last until demands for higher pay were met, today were applying for work in large numbers, despite the announcement from John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's association that the men had voted to remain out.

Grunau insisted, however, that the vote showed a majority of a few hundred in favor of staying out, but other leaders declared that the men had voted to return. Complete returns from all over the country on the question of going back to work are expected by Wednesday.

The railroads declared that the men returning to work were being employed as new men with no regard to previous seniority right.

RELIGIOUS BELIEF SHOULD BE NO BAR

Must Not Discriminate Because of Religious Belief Against Aliens—Ruling by Department of Justice.

Washington, Sept. 13.—No discrimination should be made on account of religious belief against any alien attempting to enter the United States the department of justice has ruled, in passing on an appeal raised by George H. Biddle, from the attempt of immigration authorities to bar his entrance.

Biddle is secretary of the standard section of the International Bible Students' association which group came into conflict with the government during the war because of its insistence upon pacifism.

Biddle's case was brought up when he desired to cross the Canadian border to attend a convention of the organization in the United States.

NO ELEMENT OF BLUFFING SEEN IN MACSWINEY CASE

Government and Irish Nationalists are Standing Pat

DOCTORS DISAGREE IN MAC SWINEY CASE

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(By The A. P.)—Assurances that there is no element of bluffing in the respective attitudes of the British government and the Irish nationalists relative to the MacSwiney case were obtained from responsible sources of each faction by The Associated Press this afternoon.

"If the Sinn Feiners think we are biding our time and will capitulate when MacSwiney's condition requires eleventh hour action in order to save his life they are mistaken."

This characterizes the British official view as expressed to the correspondent.

"There can be no question about our desire or intention of having Lord Mayor MacSwiney recede from the tragic stand he has taken," declared an official at the London headquarters of the Irish Nationalists organization. "If he is not released voluntarily by the government, he will most certainly go down in history as the first hunger striker to perish in an English prison."

Ten days ago the home office official believed that a new Irish crisis was imminent when the prison physicians reported that the lord mayor could not live more than 24 hours.

Doctors Decline to Predict.
Since then the doctors have declined to predict, but have confined themselves to what they believed to be the actual condition of the prisoner. They contended that in such a case one month might have been dead days ago while another might live many weeks, no one being able to judge the resistance of any individual under such circumstances.

The doctors disagree with the reports of the Irish-Self Determination League, which evidently are obtained from relatives of the prisoner, who are allowed at his bedside, that the mayor is in great pain. The home office report this morning said that he was considerably weaker than yesterday but not in pain.

CORONER'S JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN KUEHLING CASE

Says That Death Was Due to Accidental Drowning

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The death of Mrs. Gertrude Viger Kuehling, part heir to a million dollar estate in Detroit was due to "accidental drowning" in the Potomac Wednesday night, according to the coroner's inquest held today.

Her husband, Roy H. Kuehling, it was said tonight at police headquarters, will be asked to explain to the grand jury tomorrow, however, the circumstances that have been regarded by the police as of such significance as to warrant his arrest. He was still held tonight by the police.

It was explained that further investigation was desired not so much because the police yet believe there is reason for connecting with his wife's death, as to establish the more completely the truth of his story that his wife was drowned merely by the capsizing of their canoe.

OPEN SHOP FIGHT CONTINUES IN QUINCY
Quincy, Ill., Sept. 13.—Another angle of the "open shop" fight which has been under way here for several months came to the surface this morning when a manufacturing firm entered suit for $10,000 damages in the circuit court against the chairman of a committee of strikers, charging interference with employees and preventing others entering employment of the firm.

HOME BREW PARTY HELD IN OLD CHURCH
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 13.—Seven men were arrested in an abandoned church early today, where, according to the police, they were holding a "home brew" party. "We heard a lot of noise coming from the choir loft," Sergeant W. J. Cummings, explained in municipal court today, "and found sixty bottles on ice."

WILL TRY TO SOLVE PROBLEMS GROWING OUT OF WORLD WAR

Premiers of France and Italy are Studying European Situation—Must Be Close Alliance of England, Italy and France—State That Treaties are Jointly Binding

AIX LES BAINES, Sept. 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—The joint official declaration issued this afternoon by Premiers Millerand and Giolitti at the conclusion of the two days' meeting of the premiers' says: "The Italian and French premiers have exchanged their views in a most confident and amicable spirit concerning the European situation, as well as the political and economical relations between France and Italy. They are happy to note the general community of interests of the two countries, interests which can easily be reconciled."

Premier Giolitti will leave for Italy tomorrow morning. M. Millerand will spend Tuesday making excursions around Aix and leave for Geneva in the evening. Declaring a return to peace time conditions essential, the joint statement continues:

"The premiers have resolved to study in full accord a solution of the grave problems growing out of the war and up to the present incompletely solved by peace. The essential aim remains general pacification along equitable conditions in respect to every nation's independence and the restoration of normal economic relations free from all idea of exclusive domination, either political or economic."

M. Millerand and Giolitti recognize that the fundamental basis of such a peace which is in order to be lasting must be just, is close entente of the allies in the world, especially in Europe of England, Italy and France. The restoration of political and moral order is founded upon the application equitably and sincerely of the great treaties which terminated the war, as well as those which remain to be concluded in order to assure definitely European peace.

"These treaties are jointly binding; they must remain the cornerstone of new international relations. The victors must bring into them the spirit of kindly moderation, the vanquished the spirit of unrestrained loyalty."

The premiers also declared that they would remain in close contact with the governments of the allies in order to bring about a complete and lasting peace.

URGES COURTS TO DEAL WITH AFFAIRS CONCERNING HOME
JUDGE DOOLEY OF BROOKLYN BELIEVES SUCH A COURT SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Establishment of family courts to deal with matters concerning the home was urged by Edward J. Dooley, presiding justice of the Brooklyn, N. Y., court of domestic relations in an address today at the sixth biennial session of the National Conference of Catholic charities.

Such a court Judge Dooley declared would serve as a shield anchor to society.
The court should be so constituted, he said, that it would "protect and enforce the right of abandoned and neglected wives, children, parents and grandparents; that it would safeguard the home and execute with vigor the marital, parental, moral and legal obligations imposed upon man in his relation to the family."

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The good government regardless of past party affiliations. This overwhelming Republican victory unmistakably evidences the demoralization of the Democratic organization, the repudiation of the administration of their leader, Woodrow Wilson, and the complete condemnation of the campaign conduct of Candidate Cox.

With only 42 isolated towns and plantations to be heard from, which cast a total of about 3,500 in the state election of 1916, Parkhurst's plurality over Bertrand G. HARDING TALKS TO RAILROAD MEN OF CUMMINS-ESCHACT

Says the Government Took Advantage of People in War Time

DECLARES BILL IS PROGRESSIVE STEP

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Re-affirming his support of the Cummins-Esch act restoring the railways to their owners, Senator Harding charged in a speech to a delegation of railway workers here late today that by assuming control of the roads at all the Wilson administration had sought to promote a policy based on permanent government operation.

DOCTORS DISAGREE IN MAC SWINEY CASE

LONDON, Sept. 13.—(By The A. P.)—Assurances that there is no element of bluffing in the respective attitudes of the British government and the Irish nationalists relative to the MacSwiney case were obtained from responsible sources of each faction by The Associated Press this afternoon.

"If the Sinn Feiners think we are hiding our time and will capitulate when MacSwiney's condition requires eleven hour action in order to save his life they are mistaken."

This characterizes the British official view as expressed to the correspondent. "There can be no question about our desire or intention of having Lord Mayor MacSwiney recede from the tragic stand he has taken," declared an official at the London headquarters of the Irish Nationalists organization. "If he is not released voluntarily by the government, he will most certainly go down in history as the first hunger striker to perish in an English prison."

Ten days ago the home office official believed that a new Irish crisis was imminent when the prison physicians reported that the lord mayor could not live more than 24 hours.

Doctors Decline to Predict. Since then the doctors have declined to predict, but have confined themselves to what they believed to be the actual condition of the prisoner. They contend that the case baffles medical science—that in such a case one man might have been dead days ago while another might live many weeks, no one being able to judge the resistance of any individual under such circumstances.

The doctors disagree with the reports of the Irish-Self Determination League, which evidently are obtained from relatives of the prisoner, who are allowed at his bedside, that the mayor is in great pain. The home office report this morning said that he was considerably weaker than yesterday but not in pain.

CORONER'S JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN KUEHLING CASE

Says That Death Was Due to Accidental Drowning

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The death of Mrs. Gerude Viger Kuehling, part heir to a million dollar estate in Detroit was due to "accidental drowning" in the Potomac Wednesday night, according to the coroner's inquest held today.

Her husband, Roy H. Kuehling, it was said tonight at police headquarters, will be asked to explain to the grand jury tomorrow, however, the circumstances that have been regarded by the police as of such significance as to warrant his arrest. He was still held tonight by the police.

It was explained that further investigation was desired not so much because the police yet believe there is reason for connecting with his wife's death, as to establish the more completely the truth of his story that his wife was drowned merely by the capsizing of their canoe.

OPEN SHOP FIGHT CONTINUES IN QUINCY

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 13.—Another angle of the "open shop" fight which has been under way here for several months came to the surface this morning when a manufacturing firm entered suit for $10,000 damages in the circuit court against the chairman of a committee of strikers, charging interference with employee and preventing others entering employment of the firm.

HOME BREW PARTY HELD IN OLD CHURCH

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 13.—Seven men were arrested in an abandoned church early today, where, according to the police, they were holding a "home brew" party. "We heard a lot of noise coming from the choir loft," Sergeant W. J. Cummings, explained in municipal court today, and found sixty bottles on ice."

WILL TRY TO SOLVE PROBLEMS GROWING OUT OF WORLD WAR

Premiers of France and Italy are Studying European Situation—Must Be Close Alliance of England, Italy and France—State That Treaties are Jointly Binding

AIX LES BAINES, Sept. 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—The joint official declaration issued this afternoon by Premiers Millerand and Giolitti at the conclusion of the two days' meeting of the premiers' says:

"The Italian and French premiers have exchanged their views in a most confident and amicable spirit concerning the European situation, as well as the political and economical relations between France and Italy. They are happy to note the general community of interests of the two countries, interests which can easily be reconciled."

Premier Giolitti will leave for Italy tomorrow morning. M. Millerand will spend Tuesday making excursions around Aix and leave for Geneva in the evening. Declaring a return to peace time conditions essential, the joint statement continues:

"The premiers have resolved to study in full accord a solution of the grave problems growing out of the war and up to the present completely solved by peace. The essential aim remains general pacification along equitable conditions in respect to every nation's independence and the restoration of normal economic relations free from all idea of exclusive domination, either political or economic."

M. Millerand and Giolitti recognize that the fundamental basis of such a peace which in order to be lasting must be just, is a close entente of the allies in the world, especially in Europe of England, Italy and France. The restoration of political and moral order is founded upon the application of equitable and sincere of the great treaties which terminated the war, as well as those which remain to be concluded in order to assure definitely European peace.

"These treaties are jointly binding; they must remain the cornerstone of new international relations. The victors must bring into them the spirit of kindly moderation, the vanquished the spirit of unrestrained loyalty."

URGES COURTS TO DEAL WITH AFFAIRS CONCERNING HOME

Judge Dooley of Brooklyn Believes Such a Court Should be Established

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Establishment of family courts to deal with matters concerning the home was urged by Edward J. Dooley, presiding justice of the Brooklyn, N. Y., court of domestic relations in an address today at the sixth biennial session of the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

Such a court Judge Dooley declared would serve as a sheet anchor to society.

The court should be so constituted, he said, that it would "protect and enforce the right of abandoned and neglected wives, children, parents and grandparents; that it would safeguard the home and execute with vigor the moral, moral and legal obligations imposed upon man in his relation to the family."

Contractor Walbridge says he hopes to have the new power and filtration plant in operation about Dec. 25. That will be a fine Christmas present for Jacksonville people.

Some educational enthusiasts are advocating a department of education in the Wilson cabinet. That might have been well enough a few years ago but what's the use with March, 1921, so near at hand?

The political prophets have had their eye on Maine for weeks past in the pre-election contest. The result has exceeded even the same expectations of the most enthusiastic Republicans. If Maine, with its two to one vote, can be counted a "straw," certainly it's going to be a landslide for the G. O. P. on November.

The public schools have reopened and all the other schools and colleges will have begun work within the week. Once more the mills of education will be grinding. It makes a big difference in Jacksonville where "education" is one of the main lines of business.

THE THING THAT MAKES CITIES GROW.

A Jacksonville man who recently returned from a visit of several weeks in the west, is fully convinced that psychology is the basic thing in city or state development. "The fact is," he said, "if you were to take the climate away from California you would have very little left. But out there they will talk nothing but climate and its health-giving possibilities."

"The booster spirit that dominates California is just as apparent in the states that adjoin. In Portland I called a man on the phone whom I used to know in Illinois. His first sentence was, 'Well, I'm mighty glad to hear your voice out here in God's country.' The next day I met him and in every conversation I had with him during the next two or three days he had something to say about the marvelous west, its climate, the beauty of the surroundings and the business development."

"It was the same thing with every person you met. Many of these people had for climatic reasons gone to the coast from states in the middle west and thru the continuous process of boasting had really persuaded themselves that they now lived in a much finer country than they had back home."

"I couldn't help but think how we could make Jacksonville grow if we could only develop that same booster spirit here at home."

Other people who visit the west can join in this testimony.

There is no denying that there has been marvelous development in California and other western states, but the natural surroundings are not nearly as good as they are here in the Mississippi valley states. But by continually talking up these states the people who now live in them have brought about this fine development. They are sincere now in thinking that they live in the finest part of the U. S. Their optimism is contagious, just as it always is.

In San Francisco the residents won't talk about the earthquake of a few years ago. If a question is asked about it they minimize the whole matter as something unimportant. That's the way with the west. They put the spotlight on their troubles and disasters and continually look on the bright side. It's a lesson that can be learned locally with profit.

INCIDENTS OF WILSONISM

The Democratic campaign managers tell you that the tariff question is settled, yet in their 1920 convention they saw fit to adopt a platform that committed them to their "traditional policy" which is that a protective tariff is unconstitutional. If the Democratic ticket wins, the result will be interpreted as a declaration against an "America First" tariff. The 1916 Democratic campaign was waged upon the assertion that "he kept us out of war," and yet Professor Taussig argued that the election could not be interpreted otherwise than as an endorsement of the Democratic party's attitude on the tariff.

When you vote for the Democratic candidates your vote is an endorsement of all that party stands for—Internationalism, inflation, free trade, bureaucracy, extravagance, inefficiency, utilization of the government machinery for partisan purposes, secret diplomacy, coddling of bolshevism, encouragement of socialism, and high cost of living. These are the incidents of Democratic rule, and if you vote for continuance of that rule your vote will be interpreted as an endorsement of all that goes with it.

HARDING—COX: A CONTRAST

Pointing out the difference between the Harding and the Cox campaign methods, the Republican Publicity Association says:

"It is in pre-election campaigns that voters are given opportunity to form opinions of the rival candidates. The policies advocated by each are considered and compared, the previous public records of each are studied, and the methods pursued by each in the attempt to win votes are contrasted. The passing of judgment on the rival candidates for the Presidency is now in process, and as the public better acquaints itself with the ability, character, and motives of the two men it is astonished to discover the tremendous difference between them."

"Senator Harding has addressed himself to the great and varied problems that will confront him if elected to the Presidency, endeavoring to acquaint the people with the principles which will guide him in their solution. His appeal has been to the intellects of the voters whose support he asks—to their concern for the national welfare, to their desire for peace with a resort to war only as a means of defense, and to their love of independence established by the forefathers and maintained to the present day. Nothing which Senator Harding has said or done has been directed at the emotions of his audience or readers. He has endeavored to win their confidence for all time rather than to arouse a temporary enthusiasm to carry them only thru the elections. From the start, his has been a campaign of statesmanship, controlled by the highest standard of ethics, and influenced by the most lofty patriotism."

"The campaign of Governor Cox has been in startling contrast with that of his Republican opponent. He has preferred not to rely on restrained discussions of the momentous problems that are before the country, but rather to seek popular support by impulsive appeals from the public platform to the passions of his audience. The national welfare as it will be affected by his acts if he is elected President, is a subject conspicuous by its absence from his speeches. The league of nations, considered the greatest issue of the campaign, has been treated by Governor Cox from the standpoint of Europe. He has pictured the dreadful condition of the Old World torn by strife, and urged that this country place itself under the control of a foreign council to the end that our soldiers and money may be drafted to subdue the warring elements. Not a word as to the cost to this country in the loss of sovereignty, lives and wealth."

Feet of Clay.

At times some saintly writer has made a hit with me some sane and forceful fighter against iniquity. Without too much of preaching great truths his books expound, the truths that should be reaching this weary world. And every time I read him, I think, "His life's a poem!" The soul sick people need him, to bring their sunshine home! And I assume he's living like those of whom he writes, no thought of longing to lurid days and nights. Then comes some sickly scandal, some dram aram and coarse, in which that saintly vandal is screaming for divorce. And thus some actress winning is shrined in all our hearts; she seems remote from sinning and all the sordid arts. The moving films unfold her in strictly moral shows; whenever we behold her, our admiration grows. We chide her "Our Little" and praise her till we're hoarse—and then she knocks us dizzy by asking a divorce. A lot of us old wedges still look on wedding rings and solemn marriage as being sacred things. And now we find them tiring; these gifted girls and men; they had us once admiring, but never will again.

VALUABLE GIFTS FOR ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Aged Documents Presented by Miss Sturtevant Show Interesting Light on Early College Days.

During the time that Dr. Remmelkamp has been president of Illinois College, he has made a special effort to collect and preserve documents and other material relating to the history of the college. In the course of the years, a great amount of valuable historical material has been gathered. Perhaps the most valuable portion and the largest amount of this material has been donated during these years by members of the Sturtevant family. A short time ago, the president received from Miss Lucy Sturtevant a small package of material containing many interesting and valuable historical documents. Among the list, for example, was a copy of the Congressional Herald of November 2, 1854 containing the address which Dr. Truman M. Post delivered on October 7, 1854 at the laying of the corner stone of Sturtevant Hall. Two Illinois College catalogs, that of 1833-34, and of 1834-35 were also in the list.

There are naturally many items of interest in these old catalogs. For example, the total annual expense of a boy in Illinois College in those years was estimated at $83. Tuition was only $20 for the year and board was estimated at $50 for the year. Students were required to bring as their outfit for furnishing their rooms, "a plain table, 7/8 or three chairs, a pail, wash bowl and pitcher, and irons, shovel and tongs, bedstead and bed clothes." In those days the college ran a workshop and a farm which gave students an opportunity to help defray their college expenses. The college farm extended south from the present campus to about the line of the brook. The documents included also some interesting programs, the earliest one of which was program of "The Annual Exhibition of Illinois College" for August 17, 1831. There is also the program of the first commencement of the College of 1835 when Richard Yates and J. Spillman were graduated. Richard Yates delivered an oration on "The Influence of Free Institutions in Molding National Character," while Mr. Spillman gave an oration on "Scepticism" with the valedictory address.

VALUABLE GIFTS FOR ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Aged Documents Presented by Miss Sturtevant Show Interesting Light on Early College Days.

During the time that Dr. Remmelkamp has been president of Illinois College, he has made a special effort to collect and preserve documents and other material relating to the history of the college. In the course of the years, a great amount of valuable historical material has been gathered. Perhaps the most valuable portion and the largest amount of this material has been donated during these years by members of the Sturtevant family. A short time ago, the president received from Miss Lucy Sturtevant a small package of material containing many interesting and valuable historical documents. Among the list, for example, was a copy of the Congressional Herald of November 2, 1854 containing the address which Dr. Truman M. Post delivered on October 7, 1854 at the laying of the corner stone of Sturtevant Hall. Two Illinois College catalogs, that of 1833-34, and of 1834-35 were also in the list.

There are naturally many items of interest in these old catalogs. For example, the total annual expense of a boy in Illinois College in those years was estimated at $83. Tuition was only $20 for the year and board was estimated at $50 for the year. Students were required to bring as their outfit for furnishing their rooms, "a plain table, two or three chairs, a pail, wash bowl and pitcher, and iron, shovel and tongs, bedstead and bed clothes." In those days the college ran a workshop and a farm which gave students an opportunity to help defray their college expenses. The college farm extended south from the present campus to about the line of the brook. The documents included also some interesting programs, the earliest one of which was program of "The Annual Exhibition of Illinois College" for August 17, 1831. There is also the program of the first commencement of the College of 1835 when Richard Yates and J. Spillman were graduated. Richard Yates delivered an oration on "The Influence of Free Institutions in Molding National Character," while Mr. Spillman gave an oration on "Scepticism" with the valedictory address.

There are many young men and women in Jacksonville who should secure a better education. They are working and cannot attend day school. There is an opportunity, and they can arrange, if they only think so, to secure that education by attending night school at the Business College.

Decatur Man Says Perfect Tonic Relieved His Ailments in Just One Week's Time

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 13.—"Decatur people should be proud of the fact that such a wonderful medicine as Trutona, can be purchased here," declares James Adams, lifelong resident of this city and who lives at 538 North Union street.

"My stomach had been out of shape for years, and for the past three or four months my system generally has been run down," he continued. "An attack of influenza, which I had last winter, left me very weak. Gas formations in my stomach, constantly caused me much pain and misery. Almost everything I ate disagreed with me. I tried many remedies, hoping to regain my strength, but it seemed useless, and I had been away from my job for six weeks, when I began using Trutona."

"It took Trutona just a week to put me back on the job, and now I scarcely notice the gas formations. I eat heartily of most everything, and don't have to suffer afterward. I feel so much stronger, too, and my work doesn't tire me now. I know I'm gaining weight and so many people have remarked about how much better I'm looking. Again I say Decatur people should be proud of Trutona."

Trutona is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., J. F. Shreve, in Franklin at Wyle Drug Co., and in Waverly at Wyle Drug Co.—Adv.

Eruptions of the Skin

Cause Tortuous Itching

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disorder, you are well acquainted with the flaming, burning itching that these diseases produce.

So many people continue to suffer from eczema, tetter, and other forms of skin disease because they do not seek the source of their suffering and no disease can be successfully combated unless attacked at its source.

Skin diseases are caused by an impurity or disorder in the blood, and there is no real and genuine relief within your reach until such impurities are removed. This explains why disappointment comes from the use of lotions, salves, ointments and other local remedies.

S.S.S. has given great satisfaction in the treatment of these disorders, because it is such a thoroughly satisfactory blood purifier. It cleanses the blood of all impurities, and thus counteracts the effects of the germs that attack the skin.

Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical adviser will give you expert advice without charge. Address: Chief Medical Adviser, 822 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Decatur Man Says Perfect Tonic Relieved His Ailments in Just One Week's Time

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 13.—"Decatur people should be proud of the fact, that such a wonderful medicine as Trutona, can be purchased here," declares James Adams, lifelong resident of this city and who lives at 538 North Union street.

"My stomach had been out of shape for years, and for the past three or four months my system generally has been run down," he continued. "An attack of influenza, which I had last winter, left me very weak. Gas formations in my stomach, constantly caused me much pain and misery. Almost everything I ate disagreed with me. I tried many remedies, hoping to regain my strength, but it seemed useless, and I had been away from my job for six weeks, when I began using Trutona."

"It took Trutona just a week to put me back on the job, and now I can scarcely notice the gas formations. I eat heartily of most everything, and don't have to suffer afterward. I feel so much stronger, too, and my work doesn't tire me now. I know I'm gaining weight and so many people have remarked about how much better I'm looking. Again I say Decatur people should be proud of Trutona."

Trutona is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., J. F. Shreve; in Franklin at Wyle Drug Co., and in Waverly at Wyle Drug Co.—Adv.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Jacksonville people. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. J. A. Long, 900 Beesley Ave., Jacksonville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I have ever used and I have recommended them to many people. I took Kidney Pills for lameness across my back. At times I was so bad I could hardly get through with my housework. My kidneys weren't acting right, either. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Alcott's Drug Store. They soon removed the trouble and I haven't had any symptoms of kidney trouble since."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Long had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Jacksonville people. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. J. A. Long, 900 Beesley Ave., Jacksonville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I have ever used and I have recommended them to many people. I took Kidney Pills for lameness across my back. At times I was so bad I could hardly get through with my housework. My kidneys weren't acting right, either. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Alcott's Drug Store. They soon removed the trouble and I haven't had any symptoms of kidney trouble since."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Long had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Remains of the Late Mrs. Mary Peak Laid to Rest Sunday Afternoon — Woman's Club Holds Open Meeting — Other Winchester Items.

Winchester, Sept. 13.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Peak was held at the Baptist church at 10.30 o'clock Sunday morning. The auditorium and Sunday school room were filled with friends and relatives of the deceased, who was very well known throughout the county. A quartet including Mrs. W. B. Clark, Miss Louise Frost, D. Markille and George Hieronymus sang "Only Remember," and then the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. W. B. Morris. The minister then offered prayer, and

There was a great profusion of flowers sent as a last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. Burial was in Winchester cemetery and the bearers were James, George and Albert Peak, sons of the deceased; George Stewart, J. E. Hamilton and W. W. Hamilton, sons-in-law.

The Woman's Club.
The open meeting of the Woman's club was held at the home of the president, Miss Bertha Miner, Monday afternoon. Forty members were present to respond to the roll call and a very interesting session was held. The members are making preparations for the federation to be held here in October, and the committee on arrangements has been able to announce that Dr. Woodrow, pastor of the Congregational church in St. Louis, will be one of the speakers at the federation. After a social time refreshments were served.

Held Hog Sale.

One animal brought the sum of $250 and one litter of four spring pigs sold for $700. There were bidders present from Indiana, Iowa and various parts of Illinois. John Moore, Jr., small son of John Moore, offered for sale a hog of his own raising and this animal brought the sum of $220. Ladies of the Baptist church served lunch and realized a very neat sum.

TO THE VOTERS

I am before you again asking for re-election for Coroner. I have served my term to the best of my ability. I don't know how to praise myself and don't want to. But it has come to me that favoritism was shown to certain undertakers. I will say I did not know it was a coroner's duty to tell a family who to have to bury their dead. Ask any family I went into if I did not ask them who they wanted and if it was a case with no family to consult I called the undertakers in turn. I tried to do the right thing in my office. If I did it well enough to please you I ask your support for re-election.

TO THE VOTERS
I am before you again asking for re-election for Coroner. I have served my term to the best of my ability. I don't know how to praise myself and don't want to. But it has come to me that favoritism was shown to certain undertakers. I will say I did not know it was a coroner's duty to tell a family who to have to bury their dead. Ask any family I went into if I did not ask them who they wanted and if it was a case with no family to consult I called the undertakers in turn. I tried to do the right thing in my office. If I did it well enough to please you I ask your support for re-election.

A HAPPY OCCASION.

Sunday evening Miss Grassly had a farewell entertainment for the little folks whom she has guarded and mothered on the Independence school playground during the summer. The children had a lesson in nations, one boy being dressed like a Turk, one girl like a Chinese and one like a Japanese. Then beside them sat a little girl arrayed in the clothes of America. The costumes were well prepared and created much interest among the children and gave them some good information.

Miss Olive Blunt was present and talked very suitably to the children, telling them the superior advantages of this country especially for woman now that she has the ballot. All agreed that was the best country. The entire exercises were interesting and helpful.

The children all heartily expressed their love for Miss Grassly who has looked after them so well the past summer and were unanimous in wishing her back again next year.

PRIMARY CONTEST WILL END TOMORROW

Illinois Voters Show Interest in Wednesday's Election — Sharp Fight in Republican Ranks.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Illinois voters tomorrow will select Republican and Democratic nominees for United States senator, governor, congress and nearly ninety other state offices.

Chief interest in the primary is held by a factional Republican fight, with the forces of Governor Frank O. Lowden arrayed against those of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

Governor Lowden is backing a state ticket headed by John G. Oglesby, of Elkhart, his present lieutenant governor, while the Thompson organization is supporting a ticket led by Len Small, of Kankakee, Oscar E. Carlstrom, Aledo, and Edward N. Woodruff of Peoria, are also entered in the republican gubernatorial race.

On the Democratic side former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis is contesting the nomination for governor with Barratt O'Hara, former lieutenant governor. Both are from Chicago.

The Republican senatorial fight is a three cornered affair, with Mayor Thompson supporting Frank L. Smith of Dwight, chairman of the Republican state committee. The Lowden "harmony ticket," which sought to unite all factions opposed to the mayor, including the Brundage and Deacon groups in Chicago, is backing Representative William B. McKinley, of Champaign. Burnett M. Chipfield, of Canton, refused to withdraw and remains in the race.

The democratic senatorial candidates are Robert Emmet Burke, long prominent in Chicago politics, and Peter A. Waller, of Kewanee, a manufacturer and down state party leader.

Center Fight on Governor
The Thompson forces have centered their attack on the governor's slate on the issue of decreased taxes and increased fares granted public utilities by the state utilities commission under the Lowden administration. The governor's friends have countered with charges that the Thompson forces have been reckless and extravagant in the expenditure of Chicago's funds.

Voters tomorrow will name party nominees for congress including one representative at large and 25 from districts, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, clerk of the supreme and appellate courts, 27 state senators, 51 state representatives, and trustees of the east side levee and sanitary district.

Congressional Contests
Present members of congress seeking reelection have contests in several districts. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Danville's 84 year old veteran of 22 congresses, is being opposed by E. B. Coolley of Danville, in his race for the Republican nomination.

James R. Mann, Republican, of Chicago is opposed by W. C. Lombard in the second district; John W. Rainey, Democrat, fourth district, has two opponents for the nomination; Fred A. Britten, Republican, has opposition in the ninth district; Ira C. Copley, Aurora, has an opponent for the Republican nomination, and, as there is no Democratic candidate, the winner is virtually certain of election. Henry T. Rainey, democrat, Carrollton, will receive the Democratic nomination without a contest. In the 22nd district, William A. Rodenberg, of East St. Louis, who placed Governor Frank O. Lowden in nomination for president at the Republican convention, is being opposed for re-nomination by John J. Brenholt, Jr., of Alton.

Women will cast their votes in separate ballot boxes to forestall difficulties in case of litigation over suffrage.

Socialist party nominees have been entered without contests. The Farmer-Labor party does not figure in this primary but goes on the ballot in November by petition. The same is the case with the State Prohibition Party.

In Will County
Joliet, Ill., Sept. 14.—It will be a Republican party fight at the Wednesday primaries in Will county, so far as the county offices go. No Democrats are asking nomination. For the first time in the memory of politics here the Democratic party is not putting out a county ticket.

Congressman Ira C. Copley opposed by Frank McCarthy on an ultra-wet platform, makes a clean cut wet and dry fight in the congressional situation.

PRIMARY CONTEST WILL END TOMORROW

Illinois Voters Show Interest in Wednesday's Election — Sharp
Fight in Republican Ranks.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Illinois voters tomorrow will select Republican and Democratic nominees for United States senator, governor, congress and nearly ninety other state offices.

Chief interest in the primary is held by a factional Republican fight, with the forces of Governor Frank O. Lowden arrayed against those of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

Governor Lowden is backing a state ticket headed by John G. Oglesby, of Elkhart, his present lieutenant governor, while the Thompson organization is supporting a ticket led by Len Small, of Kankakee, Oscar E. Carlstrom, of Alton, and Edward N. Woodruff, of Peoria, also entered in the republican gubernatorial race.

On the Democratic side former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis is contesting the nomination for governor with Barratt O'Hara, former lieutenant governor. Both are from Chicago.

The republican senatorial fight is a three cornered affair, with Mayor Thompson supporting Frank L. Smith of Dwight, chairman of the Republican state committee. The Lowden "harmony ticket," which sought to unite all factions opposed to the mayor, including the Brundage and Deneen groups in Chicago, is backing Representative William B. McKinley, of Champaign. Burnett M. Chisfield, of Canton, refused to withdraw and remains in the race.

The democratic senatorial candidates are Robert Emmet Burke, long prominent in Chicago politics, and Peter A. Waller, of Kewanee, a manufacturer and down state party leader.

Center Fight on Governor
The Thompson forces have centered their attack on the governor's slate on the issue of decreased taxes and increased fares granted public utilities by the state utilities commission under the Lowden administration. The governor's friends have countered with charges that the Thompson forces have been reckless and extravagant in the expenditure of Chicago's funds.

Voters tomorrow will name party nominees for congress including one representative at large and 25 from districts, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, clerk of the supreme and appellate courts, 27 state senators, 51 state representatives, and trustees of the east side levee and sanitary district.

Congressional Contests
Present members of congress seeking reelection have contests in several districts. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Danville's 84 year old veteran of 22 congresses, is being opposed by E. B. Cooley of Danville, in his race for the Republican nomination.

James R. Mann, Republican, of Chicago is opposed by W. C. Lombard in the second district; John W. Rainey, Democrat, fourth district, has two opponents for the nomination; Fred A. Britten, Republican, has opposition in the ninth district; Ira C. Copley, Aurora, has an opponent for the Republican nomination, and, as there is no Democratic candidate, the winner is virtually certain of election. Henry T. Rainey, democrat, Carrollton, will receive the Democratic nomination without a contest. In the 22nd district, William A. Rodenberg, of East St. Louis, who placed Governor Frank O. Lowden in nomination for president at the Republican convention, is being opposed for re-nomination by John J. Brenholt, Jr., of Alton.

Women will cast their votes in separate ballot boxes to forestall difficulties in case of litigation over suffrage.

Socialist party nominees have been entered without contests. The Farmer-Labor party does not figure in this primary but goes on the ballot in November by petition. The same is the case with the State Prohibition Party.

In Will County
Joliet, Ill., Sept. 14.—It will be a Republican party fight at the Wednesday primaries in Will county, so far as the county offices go. No Democrats are asking nomination. For the first time in the memory of politics here the Democratic party is not putting out a county ticket.

Congressman Ira C. Copley opposed by Frank McCarthy on an ultra-wet platform, makes a clean cut wet and dry fight in the congressional situation.

We Never Shut Down

Live stock keeps coming to market and we have to keep buying it and putting it through our plants whether conditions are good or poor.

Swift & Company has no control over the quantity of live stock shipped to market. Live-stock producers ship their animals to the big stock-yards markets, where they are sold through commission men who represent the shippers.

The result is that the live-stock supply fluctuates from week to week. We have to buy the animals, however many or few there are; and they have to be handled without delay.

We cannot hold dressed beef, lamb, mutton, veal, fresh pork, or any other fresh perishable meats, but have to sell them at the prevailing market prices within a few days. If we try to sell at half a cent under the prevailing prices, retailers would naturally buy from us as long as our supply lasted, and that supply would be used up very quickly. On the other hand, if we try to sell for half a cent higher than the market prices, the retailers, who shop around, would buy from our competitors and we would have our fresh meat left on our hands. We have to sell our products every day at prevailing market prices whatever those prices may be.

Half a cent up or down in the wholesale price means the difference between profit and loss to us.

BROOKLYN CLOSE TO ANOTHER PENNANT

NEW YORK, The Brooklyn team of the National League by its double victory over the Chicago Cubs today increased its lead in the National League to five full games over Cincinnati and New York.

As the teams now stand Brooklyn has fourteen more games to play; Cincinnati, twenty-two, and New York eighteen. Should the Superbas win half their remaining games, seven, it will be necessary for the Reds to win sixteen of their twenty-two and the Giants fourteen of their eighteen in order to tie Brooklyn. On the other hand, if Cincinnati and New York win only half of their remaining games, it will be necessary for Brooklyn to win only four more games to capture the pennant.

All the leaders in the American League won their games today so that there was no change in the relative standings. New York leading Cleveland by half a game, but trailing the Indians by one point in the percentage column.

ATHLETICS PLAY VIRGINIA

The Athletics went to Virginia Sunday and played the Virginia team. It was a close game the Virginia team winning 5 to 4. "Dutch" Henderson pitched the first eight innings and Manager White the last inning. The ninth inning was a dandy. The Athletics scoring two runs and had a big debate with the umpire on a play that would have tied the score had the run been allowed. White pitched to three men in the ninth and struck each one out. The Athletics will play in Virginia another game soon and think they can even up the games. They are ready now for the State Hospital team and will practice tonight with "Goodwill's Rainbows."

INDEES OUTCLASS ELKS MERCHANTS

Defeat Springfield Aggregation By Score of 10 to 1—Wright Only Allowed One Hit Up to Ninth.

Smith's Indies outclassed the Elks Merchants of Springfield at South Side Park Sunday afternoon, winning by the top heavy score of 10 to 1.

John Wright pitched a good game for the Indies and was given good support. He allowed but one hit up to the ninth. In that inning DeFrates who had been playing thruout the contest fozzled Robertson's grounders. This seemed to unsettle Wright and he allowed two more safeties, which put over the only run of the game.

The visitors have heretofore had a strong aggregation, but failed to bring the players along Sunday. Smith was not with them and Moakley, a third baseman, did the pitching. He did very well for a few innings. However, he found nine innings a long route to travel and tired rapidly in the closing innings of the game.

During the afternoon the locals nicked Moakley for twelve hits. These coupled with errors and a base on balls were responsible for the locals' runs. Moakley also wild pitched the first run over the pan.

The Indies' inner defense played a classy brand of ball. Especially good was the work of DeFrates who seemed to have just found himself.

How the Runs Were Made.
A single, two wild pitches and a fielder's choice gave the Indies one run in the first. A single, a base on balls, a stolen base and a wild pitch followed by Scott's double scored two in the fourth.

On came in the fifth on Peirard's two base bluff of Riggs' fly and Denny's single. Singles by E. Clark, DeFrates and Scott, coupled with two errors, two stolen bases and Wheeler's triple put over five runs in the sixth. The last run came in the seventh two singles a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

DeFrates' error and two singles gave the Merchants their lone run in the ninth.

BROOKLYN NOW FIVE GAMES IN THE LEAD

Defeat Chicago Two Games White Cincinnati Lost to Philadelphia—Win First Game 7 to 3 and Second 7 to 2.

Brooklyn, Sept. 13.—Brooklyn increased its lead in the National League pennant race to five full games by winning a double header from Chicago 7 to 3 and 7 to 2, while Cincinnati lost to Philadelphia. It was the Superbas' tenth straight victory on their home grounds since returning from the west.

Brooklyn virtually knocked Alexander out of the box in the first contest and the Cubs ragged fielding in the second game made it easy for the Superbas to win.

HIGH SCHOOL STARTS FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Twenty Eight Men Report to Coach Mitchell on Illinois Field—Some Likely Looking Candidates.

Twenty-eight men reported to Coach Mitchell on Illinois field Monday morning. This was four more than met the coach at the gymnasium Saturday afternoon. There are soe likely looking candidates among the men and while there is some beef there also is plenty of speed Coach Harmon of Illinois College was present and looked the squad over and also was favorably impressed with their looks.

Coach Mitchell only gave the men some passing work and rudiments of the game. The men also were given some cackling practice and this is a feature of the game that the coach intends to work on a great deal during the practice season. From now on the men will be given daily work which will be gradually increased as they round into shape. Coach Mitchell said yesterday afternoon that he teams before the week ends. He was much pleased with the material and predicted that he would select a tentative first team have enough candidates for three within a few days.

There's no waste to Grape-Nuts and it saves sugar, for it contains its own sweetening

No cooking is necessary and the likable flavor of this wheat and malted barley food is equaled only by its economy.

Grocers everywhere sell Grape-Nuts.

Mazola fried 24½ pounds of potatoes—lard fried only 7 pounds 14 ounces!

THAT Mazola is a better and more economical frying fat than lard has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery.

Mrs. Andrea found that 4 lbs. of Mazola, cooked down to 2 lbs., fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes. While 4 lbs. of lard cooked down to 2 lbs. fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. potatoes.

Tested on fish steaks, one inch in thickness, Mazola fried 25½ lbs., while lard fried only 16½ lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts cut uniformly 2½ inches in diameter, Mazola fried 208, while lard fried only 138.

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

No housewife who wants to use the most wholesome, as well as the most economical cooking and salad oil, should fail to order Mazola from her grocer today.

HEL-LO-o-o-o PETE:

In two more shakes of a lamb's tail I'd have been between the sheets—but I got taken with another large idea for Camel Cigarette ads that's so bright you can phone 'em to cut the current because you just had your lamps lit!

Tell you, it's a whale of a stunt! Everybody right quiet—and hats off! NOW—far as I know or ever heard, there never has been one of those zippy slogans under that big display name "Camel". I'VE GOT ONE—get me? Put both your ears close to the ground and get the rumble of a broadside like this:

Camel

Once it meant an animal—now a Cigarette!

Wow, Pete! I'll testify that's a stoneless peach! Spread it like I've dented it in here—and you've uncorked an eyeful! Suppose you'll want to call me old Mr. Hammer because I hit the nail on the head!

And, bet real money that if this slogan stuff keeps me awake the rest of the night, I'll wire and offer it to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. before you hit the deck! And, I'll be spending some of the proceeds for noon eats! In the "lang-wage" of Jigger Jones of Joplin, "you tell 'em old yacht, you've got the sales spirit!"

Blowing out of St. Louis at 10.12 tomorrow with a bundle of business. Off for Ohio. Got something on me mind!

Till I get it off—

We Never Shut Down

Live stock keeps coming to market and we have to keep buying it and putting it through our plants whether conditions are good or poor.

Swift & Company has no control over the quantity of live stock shipped to market. Live-stock producers ship their animals to the big stock-yards markets, wherethey are sold through commission men who represent the shippers.

The result is that the live-stock supply fluctuates from week to week. We have to buy the animals, however many or few there are; and they have to be handled without delay.

We cannot hold dressed beef, lamb, mutton, veal, fresh pork, or any other fresh perishable meats, but have to sell them at the prevailing market prices within a few days. If we try to sell at half a cent under the prevailing prices, retailers would naturally buy from us as long as our supply lasted, and that supply would be used up very quickly. On the other hand, if we try to sell for half a cent higher than the market prices, the retailers, who shop around, would buy from our competitors and we would have our fresh meat left on our hands. We have to sell our products every day at prevailing market prices whatever those prices may be.

Half a cent up or down in the wholesale price means the difference between profit and loss to us.

BROOKLYN CLOSE TO ANOTHER PENNANT

NEW YORK, The Brooklyn team of the National League by its double victory over the Chicago Cubs today increased its lead in the National League to five full games over Cincinnati and New York.

As the teams now stand Brooklyn has fourteen more games to play; Cincinnati, twenty-two, and New York eighteen. Should the Superbas win half their remaining games, seven, it will be necessary for the Reds to win sixteen of their twenty-two and the Giants fourteen of their eighteen in order to tie Brooklyn. On the other hand, if Cincinnati and New York win only half of their remaining games, it will be necessary for Brooklyn to win only four more games to capture the pennant.

All the leaders in the American League won their games today so that there was no change in the relative standings. New York leading Cleveland by half a game, but trailing the Indians by one point in the percentage column.

ATHLETICS PLAY VIRGINIA

The Athletics went to Virginia Sunday and played the Virginia team. It was a close game the Virginia team winning 5 to 4. "Dutch" Henderson pitched the first eight innings and Manager White the last two. The ninth inning was a dandy. The Athletics scoring two runs and had a big debate with the umpire on a play that would have tied the score had the run been allowed. White pitched to three men in the ninth and struck each one out. The Athletics will play in Virginia another game soon and think they can even up the games. They are ready now for the State Hospital team and will practice tonight with "Goodwill's Rainbows."

INDEES OUTCLASS ELKS MERCHANTS

Defeat Springfield Aggregation By Score of 10 to 1—Wright Only Allowed One Hit Up to Ninth.

Smith's Indees outclassed the Elks Merchants of Springfield at South Side Park Sunday afternoon, winning by the top heavy score of 10 to 1.

John Wright pitched a good game for the Indees and was given good support. He allowed but one hit up to the ninth. In that inning DeFrates who had been playing thruout the contest fozzled Robertson's grand slam. This seemed to unsettle Wright and he allowed two more safeties, which put over the only run of the game.

How the Runs Were Made.

A single, two wild pitches and a fielder's choice gave the Indees one run in the first. A single, a base on balls, a stolen base and a wild pitch followed by Scott's double scored two in the fourth. One came in the fifth on Peirard's two base muff of Riggs' fly and Denny's single.

Singles by E. Clark, DeFrates and Scott, coupled with two errors, two stolen bases and Wheeler's triple put over five runs in the sixth. The last run came in the seventh two singles a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

DeFrates' error and two singles gave the Merchants their lone run in the ninth.

tem which will stabilize grain prices and take out the hazard and gamble grain growers are subject to in selling their products. The conference requested President Howard to appoint this committee to analyze the present marketing system and map a program of action to submit to the conference later.

This committee represents the National Society of Equity, Farmers' National Grain Dealers Federation, National Grange and the American Farm Bureau Federation. The Federal government—the public and the agricultural press are represented on the committee. These are the farmers organizations of the United States interested in grain marketing and all of them have state and national associations. All organizations have endorsed their representatives. This committee was picked from a list of 150 available men recommended by their organizations, and is supposed to represent the best agricultural brains of the middle west on grain marketing. Illinois is represented by William G. Eckhardt, Director of the grain marketing department of the Illinois agricultural association.

Merced County Leads in Wool. Pike County with its 54,000 pounds of wool in the Chicago warehouse, has been given credit for leading the other 39 counties but after adding up shipments which have just stopped coming in, it is found that Merced has pooled 98,000 pounds. The wool pool exceeds all expectations with a total of nearly a million and a half pounds.

The membership of the Illinois Agricultural association now totals 96,640, an increase of 1476 over last week. The Edwards county campaign, which started August 30th, has gained 311 new members. Bond reports 137 members since September 6th. Platt has signed up 392 members since August 20th. Beginning at the same time, the Monroe County Farm Bureau has enrolled 574 farmers. These three counties close their campaigns September 4th with 62 new members.

Live Stock Survey Indicates Decrease. Of the 61 counties to which live stock survey blanks were sent, 33 have thus far made returns with a total of about 25,000 blanks. Most of these have already been counted and summarized. Special studies have been made in six counties from which large numbers of returns have been received, such special studies usually disclosing an intention on the part of the farmers to feed and market fewer live stock in 1920 than in 1916. This is especially true of cattle. As rapidly as possible these special studies of the trend among farmers with respect to live stock production will be made in other counties and the results given out. The number of such studies thus far made is not sufficient to warrant any general statements or averages. Bankers Favor Co-operative Marketing.

Then bankers of Pike county realize the importance of intelligent co-operation with farming interests and are anxious to place their resources at the disposal of farmers for the good of the whole community. In a resolution passed by the Pike County Bankers association, these facts were declared and the co-operative marketing movement of farmers over the state was endorsed, along with the effort of farmers to secure more adequate representation in the state legislature.

REGARDING MR. M'MILLAN

Friends of the Hon. Thos. C. MacMillan, of LaGrange, Cook county, will be interested in the following from the local papers: Thomas MacMillan Weddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Weddell of Hinsdale, was buried in the Bronwood cemetery, near that suburb last Saturday.

This young man was one of the first hundred who volunteered and was accepted for aviation service overseas when the United States entered the World War. Two brothers also volunteered and were accepted. Both of these did well their part, and returned home with fine records.

"Mac," as he was affectionately and familiarly called, was killed in an air accident on July 1, 1918, in France. There he was buried with military honors. Recently by order of the government, a number of the bodies in this arm of the service were removed and brought back to the United States and given over to their stricken families for interment in their home cemeteries, "Mac's" among them.

The services on last Saturday afternoon, at the home in Hinsdale and at the cemetery, were conducted by the Hinsdale Post of the American Legion. These exercises were unusually simple and impressive. The Rev. Dr. Weddell, uncle of the lamented and gallant young volunteer, officiated at the home and the Legion's commander conducted the services at the grave. The attendance was large, for "Mac" was a popular and well known man and much esteemed, and Mr. and Mrs. Weddell have a wide circle of acquaintances.

"Mac" was named after Thomas C. MacMillan, of LaGrange, who has been an intimate friend and editorial associate of his father for more than a quarter of a century. "Mac" was one of the four companions who early offered their services to the cause. All of this splendid four died for their country in the war. They were a noble band. They were all born under the flag, died under the flag, and sleep under the folds of our National emblem they loved so well.

To Witness Famous Dance. Wm. Hugh MacMillan left this week for a two months' visit to New Mexico with his brother, James, who lives in Santa Fe. On Friday they go by auto, a trip of 350 miles, to witness the remarkable "Snake Dance" of the Moqui (Mo-kee) Indians in northern Arizona. This is a celebrated ceremonial of these aborigines. Probably the best account of the Moqui dance ever written and published was by the late Captain John G. Bourke of the Third Cavalry, U. S. A., and intimate friend of Dr. T. C. MacMillan, who was a war correspondent in the far west with Gen. Crook, whose chief-of-staff, Captain Bourke, was in several of that famous Indian fighter's most strenuous campaigns.

Why Former Governor Richard Yates Declares for Len Small

The following is a letter from former Governor Richard Yates, Congressman-at-large from Illinois, regarding the Hon. Len Small, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor:

"I have decided to support Senator Len Small of Kankakee for the Republican nomination for Governor, at the primary election on the 15th of September, and I think I ought to say so, to my friends.

He will make the best of candidates. His qualifications are unequalled. His candidacy appeals to all who appreciate efficiency. He is, indeed, eminently qualified. It is as if he had literally gone to school to obtain the degree of Governor. He has served as adviser of five governors, Fifer, Tanner, Yates, Deneen and Lowden, all of them trusted and confided in him; he knows how governors look at things. He knows the state public charities, inside and out; he served many years on a state charitable institution commission. He understands legislation; served as State Senator. He comprehends large finance, having been State Treasurer twice and sub-Treasurer of the United States once. He has not lost touch with the country; but has been a country banker and very successful. He has also been a large farmer; and has again and again been president and general manager of the State Fair. He is too wise to be fooled, too brave to be scared, and too honest to be bought. Not a soul has ever breathed a breath against his integrity."
